URGE GOVERNOR
AS CANDIDATE
IN SENATE RACEStutsman County Paper Begins
A Movement to Force Him
Into Race

HAS BOOST FOR SEILER

Urge Oscar Seiler of Jamestown
As Candidate for Governor
In This Event

Each day brings forth a new suggestion for candidacy in the senatorial race in North Dakota. As the matter now stands, in number of candidates, it would seem that the positions of United States Senator, Judge of the Supreme Court and Sheriff of Burleigh county are the most popular political offices within the gift of the electorate.

The latest boom in the senatorial race is a definite effort to enlist Governor R. A. Nestos in the senatorial race, with O. J. Seiler, of Jamestown, very prominently mentioned in connection as a successor to Governor Nestos as a candidate for Governor. Reprints of an editorial in the Stutsman County Democrat of Jamestown, were received in Bismarck today. They were mailed from Box 885, Jamestown, with no indication as to the identity of the person sending out the reprints.

Boom for Seiler
There is a demand that Governor Nestos enter the race for United States Senator. The editorial declares with respect to Seiler:

"Among the men who have been most prominently mentioned as a possible successor to Governor Nestos, should he be drafted to go to the United States senate, is Oscar J. Seiler of Jamestown. Mr. Seiler is a North Dakota product, having come to the state as a mere youth back in territorial days, and has kept in close touch with public affairs here. He is a personal friend of Mr. Green and Mr. D. Nault and other Nestos' lieutenants and could be depended upon to carry out the program which Mr. Nestos has begun."

Praises Governor.
Taking the position that Governor Nestos could defeat all other candidates for the senate, the editorial says:

"True, there are seeming reasons why this man should not be endorsed for the U. S. senate at this time, but they are only 'seeming' reasons. The man we have in mind is undoubtedly the most popular man in the state of North Dakota today. His character is above reproach. He has been tested in the fire of the hottest campaign ever waged in North Dakota. He has been face to face with the greatest problems ever met by a North Dakota official. He has been hindered by his political enemies in his attempts to carry out his promises, and has been bitterly attacked by unscrupulous job-seekers."

"Through it all, he has proved himself to be a Christian gentleman—four square. He has not stopped to fling back the taunts of his enemies or to fight back except when it was necessary to carry out his purpose. He has cleared himself to the people of North Dakota and has invoked the praise of North Dakota's neighbors. He is a man who would secure, not only every true independent vote, but who would receive thousands and thousands of votes of former Nonpartisan Leaguers. That man is Governor R. A. Nestos."

His Record.
"Governor Nestos has made a wonderful record since his election as chief executive of the state. He has secured the sale of the state hall warrants, bringing thousands of dollars into the state and saving the farmers thousands of dollars. He has reorganized the farm loan department of the Bank of North Dakota and speeded up the making of farm loans. He has surprised even his most ardent admirers with the rapidity with which he has carried out all of his campaign pledges, making a thorough investigation of the state industries and pushing the work on the Grand Forks mill and elevator projects. He has shown himself to be the friend of all of the people of the state by his vigorous campaign to cut down expenses and to encourage all other government agencies to follow his good example. Governor Nestos would not only receive all of the vote which any other fourth candidate would receive, but he would get thousands and thousands of votes which would go to the other three candidates. In any other all of this is the probability that if Governor Nestos is a candidate, Mr. Crona will withdraw and throw his support to Governor Nestos."

Objection Answered.
"There has been but one objection offered to the drafting of Governor Nestos as the Independent candidate for the senatorial race, and that is he is needed as governor. It is admitted that Mr. Nestos is needed as chief executive of the state, but the need is not so great as that in the senate. There are any number of good men who could be endorsed who could defeat the Nonpartisan nominee for governor. Even the most loyal Leaguer admits that Mr. Baker has very little chance of securing the republican nomination, and even should he be nominated in June, he could be defeated at the general election in the fall."

"On the other hand, Governor Nestos has gathered together an able corps of lieutenants at Bismarck, who could carry on the work which he has begun as governor under any other independent which the Jamestown convention might endorse. With Mr. Green at the head of the Bank of North Dakota and W. B. DeNault as head of the farm loan department of these most important departments of the state's affairs have been placed in excellent condition."

HUSBAND KILLED TO PROTECT HER

Her husband was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

RESTRAINING ORDER IS OBTAINED
BY CAHILL IN DISTRICT COURT

Members of Board of Administration Claim They Were "Entitled" to Meeting at State Training School, Order of Court Being Served on Them During Meeting in Mandan

A meeting of the board of administration was called at the state training school in Mandan yesterday afternoon. George B. Totten, member of the board, was summoned from Fargo on "important business."

Miss Nielson, a member of the board, who had been busy was summoned hurriedly to the meeting. All members of the board were across the Big Muddy to the meeting. Superintendent McClellan, of the training school, appeared surprised, as he had attended a meeting of the board in Bismarck Saturday afternoon.

Independent members of the board were surprised when the main business of the meeting seemed to be discussion of a sewer and gymnasium work. But—

The mystery soon dissolved. The members of the board of administration were served with an order restraining them from interfering in any way with J. E. Cahill as a member of the board of administration. Cahill's lawyer had filed suit while board members were performing duties in Mandan.

It was a Nonpartisan coup d'état. And it, as the Kositzky-Prater fight for office, provoked merriment from both sides. The independent members of the board felt they had been "tricked" into the meeting at Mandan. Geo. Totten was said to be "sore" because he was summoned all the way from Fargo. The Nonpartisans, chuckled.

Cahill's complaint was filed in district court at Mandan by his attorney, Charles L. Crum. It alleged he was entitled to the office and that R. B. Murphy, appointed by the governor as his successor, was an intruder.

Judge Berry issued an order to show cause, restraining other members of the board from interfering with Cahill's performance of duties and directing board members to show cause on April 25 why they should not be permanently restrained.

Members of the board did not indicate today just what action they would take.

FARMERS GIVEN
PROTECTION IN
TARIFF MEASUREAdministration Tariff Bill As Rewritten by Finance Committee Presented

LONG FIGHT IS AHEAD

Bill Will Give United States
About $325,000,000 Revenue
Annually, Estimated

Washington, April 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—The administration tariff bill as re-written by the senate finance committee Republicans on the basis for foreign valuation with provisions for flexible rates and proclaimed American valuations as recommended by President Harding was presented to the senate today. A long fight is in prospect.

As a whole the bill averages higher than the old Payne-Aldrich bill, experts say, adding it should produce somewhere around $325,000,000 annually of revenue.

Rates in the agricultural schedules are about as demanded by the senate Republican farm tariff bloc, experts stating that with few exceptions they would not exceed 25 per cent. Duty on wheat was put at 85 cents a bushel and on scoured wool 77 cents a pound. Cattle hides were taken from the free list and a duty of 2 cents on green and 4 cents on dried proposed. In its report the committee majority said that it had tried to give agriculture the same protection that other industries received.

WANTS ACTION
BY DAUGHTERY

Washington, April 11.—Representative Woodruff, of Michigan, Republican, said in the House today if the Attorney-General "did not fully look to the interest of the government" in a pending suit against the Lincoln Motor company he would "consider him guilty of misfeasance" and move his impeachment.

Mr. Woodruff's statement was made in an extended speech in which he charged that the department of justice had failed to proceed in civil and criminal courts against a number of war contractors on testimony brought out before congressional investigating committees.

DEMOCRATS IN
CO. CONVENTIONHold Meeting in Courthouse To Discuss Action

CONVENTION SPLIT.
There was a split in the Democratic county convention this afternoon. On the ground that the county chairman, F. O. Heistrom, was not present after time for call of the convention, some Democrats present organized with Dr. F. R. Smyth as chairman. Mr. Heistrom, who came into the meeting protested. There was a vote in which the chair was suspended, 10 to 9. The convention under Dr. Smyth elected 10 delegates to Jamestown. Mr. Heistrom called for regularly elected delegates to retire to another room, where they proceeded with election of delegates to Jamestown and other matters expected to occupy most of the afternoon.

The Democratic county convention was being held in the courthouse here this afternoon.

Caucuses for the selection of delegates to the county convention were held last night. For the city of Bismarck a mass meeting of Democrats was held in the courthouse to select delegates to the county convention.

All wards were represented. Committees were named to canvass the wards and see that the Democratic vote is registered. Chairman Heistrom said that the exact number of votes the Democrats must poll is 26,018 in order to keep party designation on the fall ballot.

Chairman Heistrom announced the coming here, Sunday, April 16, of Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and stated he had received a letter from H. H. Berry, of Ellendale, national committeeman, asking that Democrats be called in for a conference with the Democratic chairman.

COUNTRY NOT POOR OR BROKE, AND
PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT, SAYS MEYER

Fargo, April 11.—The country is not poor or broke and prospects were never brighter, Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the United States War Finance Corporation, told 50 North Dakota bankers at an informal dinner here last night.

"And I am not speaking of the east, but of that section of the country lying west of the Mississippi river," the speaker added.

Mr. Meyer is returning to Washington after a survey of all sections of the country made at the request of President Harding.

"The big crisis is past," he said. "People have stopped thinking about their difficulties of the past and are looking to the future with a good deal of confidence. And they have right to be confident."

"I feel I can say this with some authority. I can say it, having as comprehensive a view of the situation as any one in the country for I have been in contact with as wide a sweep of the citizenship of the nation as any man in recent months."

North Dakota is second only to Iowa in the amount that has been loaned by the War Finance Corporation for agricultural purposes, he said. He added that Iowa received $23,018,62 and North Dakota $18,551,540.

DEMANDS MADE ON PRATER FOR
KEYS TO OFFICEBoard of University and School
Lands Hold Meeting to Present Record

QUEER ANGLE IN CASE

Two demands were made upon William J. Prater by the board of university and school lands in a meeting held this morning, which were refused by Mr. Prater.

The board demanded that Prater instruct the postmaster to deliver all mail to the chairman of the board, who is Governor Nestos; that he deliver to the Governor the combination of the vault, and requesting the chairman of the board to demand of the board of administration that it have capital employees in charge of the building to open the vault. The demand was forthwith made by the Governor.

Action in the case was rapidly coming to a head today, following efforts to settle the matter yesterday. Both Carl R. Kositzky, appointed land commissioner, and Prater were heading forth in the office. No business was being done. No mail was delivered.

The Attorney-General suggested to William Langer, attorney for Prater, that they enter a stipulation permitting Kositzky to assume charge of the office without Prater surrendering any legal rights. Mr. Langer declined to enter into the stipulation on the ground it would be prejudicial to his client.

The board at another meeting appointed two men to conduct land hearings. It was prepared today to enforce its demand for possession of the office so that work in the land department might go on. A queer angle in the case was that it was understood the assistant postmaster here was going to wire the department at Washington for instructions as to whom he should deliver mail. Valuable mail is stacked up in the postoffice. Instructions had been issued by Prater not to deliver mail to Kositzky and Kositzky had issued the same order.

At a meeting of the board it was agreed to appoint John Snyder, who had been named deputy land commissioner by Kositzky, and Frank Klebert, to conduct the landings of land. Annually school lands owned by the state are leased for grazing purposes.

STATEMENTS OF
BANK WILL BE BASED ON AUDITBank of North Dakota Statements in Future Expected
To Show a Loss

IS NOT MAKING MONEY

State Officials Not Surprised
At Items Charged as Loss
By Auditors

Statements of the Bank of North Dakota issued in the future will be based upon the Bishop, Brissman and company audit of the affairs of the bank, which showed a loss of $150,475.64 on Dec. 31, 1921. Reckonings of profit and loss of the bank will be made from this report, it is understood.

The condition of the bank as shown by the report is about as expected by C. R. Greene, manager of the bank. Mr. Greene, asked concerning the report, said that he had taken the showings as left by the former management of the bank, feeling that there should be no change made until after the official audit. The items charged off by the auditing company were also counted as loss by Mr. Greene.

The Bank of North Dakota is not making money at the present time, although expenses of conducting the bank have been materially reduced. Mr. Greene said that he did not believe in figuring profit or loss of an institution during the middle of a year, and added that while there might be shown either a slight profit or loss on the books this could not be safely determined until the end of the year.

Among the items which the auditing company charged off in the report were discount on bank series bonds and commissions paid for bond sales. These items, totalling $140,000, had been carried as an asset on the books of the bank, a practice which the auditors by their report hold to be untenable. There is the possibility it is stated, of this loss being reduced somewhat if bank series bonds now unsold are sold above par or profit accrues from the loaning of money to farmers.

Expenses of the bank, exclusive of the farm loan department, have been reduced from $7,777.40 in November, 1921 to $2,993.00 in March while the expenses of the farm loan department, built almost from the ground, have increased materially.

Practice Discontinued.
A practice which has been discontinued by the bank and which had previously resulted in large "paper profits" is the crediting of interest on loans and redemptions in closed banks. It is generally admitted that there is small hope of collecting a considerable amount of this interest.

Great losses will be sustained also in the principal of loans and redemptions in closed banks, it is expected. Because the affairs of none of these banks have been finally closed the loans and redemptions are still carried as assets of the bank. It is not likely that they will be charged off until the affairs of the various banks are settled, although in some cases the loss will admittedly be very high.

Members of the Industrial Commission are engaged in a study of the audit reports of the Bishop, Brissman company, which are expected to be the basis of future action of the commission.

NEW EMPLOYEES ON JOB HERE

The elevator accounting department of the railroad commission, formerly a part of the grain inspector's office at the North Dakota Agricultural College, was installed in the Bank of North Dakota building here today. J. I. Brady is in charge. Other employees of the Fargo office who came here are A. H. Thomas, Miss Hilda Seltre, Miss Henriette Slagterman.

The railroad commission will hold a conference with grain men of the state tomorrow in the senate chamber of the state capitol to take up the question of duties to be assumed by the railroad board, following the decision of the United States supreme court declaring the grain grading act valid.

RUSS DELEGATES TAKE STAGE AT
GENOA MEETINGClash Between Soviet Delegation
And French is Starter For Conference

NEW DEMANDS ARE MADE

Want Japanese and Roumanians
Barred From Conference on Europe's Economic Ills

RUSS IN PROTEST.
Genoa, April 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—At this afternoon's meeting of the principal conference committee which is to consider Russian affairs Foreign Minister Chicherin, of Russia, protested against the presence of the Roumanian and Japanese delegates because Roumania was occupying Bessarabia and Japan was occupying portions of Siberia.

Premier Facta, Italy, who was presiding over the committee declined to consider the Russian protest, giving as his reason that all the countries invited to the conference had a right to be represented on its committee.

MUST DISARM.

Genoa, April 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—George Chicherin, head of the Russian Soviet delegation to the Economic conference, issued a statement declaring it useless to discuss the reconstruction of Europe without also discussing disarmament.

Amelioration of present conditions is impossible while the un-imperialistic countries continue vast expenditures for the maintenance of large armies, he said.

Genoa, April 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Consideration of the Russian question by the international economic and financial conference began today with the meeting of the Russian commission appointed yesterday by the conference chairman, Premier Facta, of Italy. The clash between the Russians and French at the opening session yesterday was still the subject of excited comment as the delegates gathered today. Allied diplomats believe that only the prompt intervention of Prime Minister Lloyd George, of Great Britain, and the first attitude of the chairman, averted a break which would have seriously interfered with coming deliberations.

RUSSIA TO REFRONT.
Genoa, April 11.—Russia, the status of which is one of the questions of supreme importance to be decided by the economic conference, came to the forefront soon after the opening of that great assembly yesterday.

Speeches had been made by the presiding officer, Premier Facta of Italy; M. Barthou, representing France; Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain; Dr. Wirth of Germany and spokesmen of Japan and Belgium, all of a conciliatory nature and voicing adherence to the Cannes resolution upon which the present gathering is based. Mr. Lloyd George had said that all the delegates met on a footing of equality, provided they accept the conditions set forth, which briefly declared that the countries must not repudiate their contracts, that they must not engage in aggressive operations against others and that the people of one country should be entitled to justice in the courts of another.

George Chicherin, the Russian soviet foreign minister, in speaking for his delegation, announced their adherence to the resolutions and then declared that Russia was ready to support any proposals that would avoid war or lighten the burden of armament.

M. Barthou immediately protested and declared with some heat that France would absolutely refuse to discuss the question of disarmament at this conference.

Mr. Lloyd George hastened to intervene, and in his contention that disarmament could not be taken up, certainly not before a peace basis had been reached at Genoa, he was supported by Signor Facta.

Eventually the discussion on this point ceased, after M. Chicherin said the Russian delegation would bow to the collective will of the conference.

Peace is Keynote of Meeting.
The clash between the Russian and French delegates disclosed the fact that disarmament is not on the agenda and that therefore this matter it not to be taken up for consideration.

The keynote of Lloyd George's speech was peace and he made a powerful appeal to the delegates to work in unison for the restoration of good relations and normal economic conditions throughout the world. He believed that if the conference was successful in its achievements, the United States "would not merely come in, but come in gladly."

The Italian premier who was elected permanent chairman of the conference was equally earnest in his desire for unanimity and said the aim of Italy was in carrying out any resolution likely to guarantee peace and stability among the nations.

M. Barthou pledged the loyal support of France in whatever the conference might do to put into execution the tasks of reconstruction and good relationship which it had mapped out.

ICE JAM DYNAMITED.
Mott, N. D., April 11.—It was necessary to use several heavy blasts of dynamite to break a heavy jam of ice in the Cannon Ball river here, which for a time threatened to take out the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul railway bridge.

WHAT ARE THE BEST METHODS OF SECURING DESIRABLE SETTLERS FOR VACANT LANDS?

This Is The Question Asked By The Northern Pacific, and They Answer

"MAKE A PLACE FOR THEM"

N. P. Is Receiving Hundreds of Letters From Men Who Want To Move Northwest

BY E. F. BENSON, Manager, Department of Immigration and Industry Northern Pacific Railway Company.

Old-fashioned methods of land settlement cannot succeed under present conditions in developing the West. The time has passed when the railroads, or any other influential agency, will co-operate with mere land speculators, but they will gladly co-operate with those land owners and real estate agents who make the settlers welfare their first consideration.

The prosperity and permanent welfare of the settler is the first consideration of the Northern Pacific Railway Company and all its departments—not the profit of the land.

Thousands of men, now living in densely populated eastern states, are eager to move west "to grow up with the country," but will not move until they know they have a chance to succeed and that they will secure a reasonable pioneer's profit.

Heretofore many settlers have been lured to western farms by eloquent representations and left there without enough resources to permit them to develop their land or make a business success of their properties.

But these conditions are passing. The West needs people today more than ever before. The United States has no greater problem than the development of its unused lands.

The Northern Pacific is ready to help solve this problem. It is ready to co-operate in placing many thousands of settlers in the west and in turning the tide of immigration back to the country from the city.

Are We Ready

But, is the West ready to receive the settler? If it is, we can send the people. We are receiving hundreds of letters weekly from men who want to move to the Northwest and our Immigration Agents are calling upon several hundred of the most likely of these prospects each month.

There is only one answer to the question: "What are the best methods of securing desirable settlers for vacant lands?" It is: "Make a place for them." Reverse the order of things as heretofore practiced in this country—that of painting a bright picture of the land far away and then confining efforts at land settlement to mere land selling, and instead, organize the land owners into helpful and carefully planned community development colonization associations. Make it safe, comfortable and attractive for the man with $2000 to $3000 to become the owner of a farm home that will yield a living for himself and family, pay the taxes and interest and ultimately the debt on his farm, educate the children and provide amusement and social advantages for the women and children, make needed improvements for the family's comfort and pleasure, and finally lay up a modest sum for old age. Less than that is not an attractive or reasonable proposition.

The people of the West are great boosters, the greatest, probably in the world. In fact, sometimes they boost too much, without backing up their boasting with the real goods. It is not enough simply to advertise for settlers; before asking them to come, be sure that you have the place where the ordinary thrifty farmer can succeed. The ordinary booster literature will not get the people in this day.

In the "good old days" cheap land in the West attracted settlers. They were lured on by the promise of the pioneer's profit, which was thought to be in sight, just as they were lured to California for gold in '49.

Profits in West

There are still profits to be made in the West, big profits—profits in satisfaction and happiness as well as in real money. But these profits don't just come to people in the West any more than they come in the East, they must be earned.

The Northern Pacific, which pioneered in the Northwest, is vitally interested in building up its population. The West is hungry for settlers and the Northern Pacific is eager to gratify that hunger. No agency is more anxious to secure permanent settlers for this country.

To get permanent settlers, we are convinced that the ancient land-selling schemes for the benefit of the land-seller are futile. They do more harm than good. What the West needs is colonization of the type which has succeeded so well in California, in Australia and many European countries. This plan puts people on the land to stay, gives them a chance to live and prosper, and proves a permanent benefit to the vicinity and state in which they reside.

Successful colonization of western lands is dependent largely upon:

- 1—A reasonable price for the land.
- 2—Plenty of time to pay (20 to 30 years) on the amortization plan, and a low rate of interest (not over 6%).
- 3—Co-operation and supervision of the state.
- 4—Good water rights, in case of irrigated lands.
- 5—The organization of colonization companies with sufficient capitalization to back the settlers.
- 6—Advertising these conditions.
- 7—Intelligent co-operation of the railroads.

We recommend as an ideal unit for a colonization project, a body of land large enough to accommodate from 100 to 150 families; the land to be of such quality of soil and have such climatic conditions and to be located with reference to roads and transportation facilities as to give reasonable assurance of success to the prospective settlers.

Fair Price Necessary

The price of the land must be reasonable in proportion to adjacent lands in the country and the productive value of the lands and the terms of payment such that the colonization company undertaking the work of assisting and directing the prospective settlers can give them such a contract as will enable them to pay out, even though the settlers have, at the outset, a comparatively small amount of capital—probably $1500 to $3000—providing they have a knowledge of farming and a willingness to practice thrift.

Before the Northern Pacific undertakes the colonization of any project, we ask that the land be examined and approved, and the plans of the colonization company, its land prices and terms of sale also studied and approved by some responsible state official charged with this duty. In Montana this means the Commissioner of Agriculture, in Washington, the Director of Conservation and Development, in Idaho, the Commissioner of Reclamation. The titles to the land and water rights and validity and character of the water rights, where lands are irrigated, must also be examined and approved in the same manner.

If conditions are right and approval secured, we have every assurance that thousands of families can be placed on such lands. Without such conditions, but based on the old methods of mere land selling without any assistance to the newcomer, the present prospects for immigration to the West are anything but encouraging.

GRAND JURY IS ASKED TO PROBE BANK AFFAIRS

Attorney-Gen. Johnson Makes Application to Judge Cooley For Grand Jury

A thorough probe of all the affairs of the Scandinavian-American Bank of Fargo is asked by Attorney-General Svenbjorn Johnson in an application to District Judge Charles M. Cooley for the convening of a grand jury in Fargo. The presentation is made through State's Attorney William Green, of Fargo.

The petition sets out that the bank was closed in February, 1921, and says that numerous transactions in connection with it indicate crimes were committed. It includes among the alleged violations:

Loans in excess of the legal limit; loans made directly or indirectly to officers of the bank in violation of law without authorization of directors; loans made through individual enterprises in which officers were interested in excess of what was allowed by law; that officers of the bank made false reports to the state examiner's office for the purpose of concealment; that for the purpose of increasing the capital stock, false and fraudulent statements were made under oath; that large sums of money actually were embezzled and no punishment meted out except to one insubordinate; that deposits were received while the bank was insolvent; that great sums of money were deposited after the first closing in 1919 when it appears to have been insolvent and that over $400,000 of state money was so deposited.

The Attorney-General says he believes that "public interest requires such an investigation be made and that it can be made most economically and more efficiently through the instrumentality of a grand jury than in any other way."

PRESENTED THIS WEEK

Fargo, April 10.—A petition by the state's attorneys office for a grand jury investigation of "any looting" of the Scandinavian-American Bank will be presented to District Judge Cooley here late this week, William Green, state's attorney of Cass county, announced today.

OAKES CLUB FAVORS ISSUE

Oakes, N. D., April 10.—Expressing the belief that certain road building in Dickey county would not be opposed if the road amendment were understood, the Oakes Commercial club adopted a resolution urging Governor Nestos to do everything in his power to obtain passage of the good roads amendment to the state constitution. Passing upon proposed Dickey county road work as requested by the county commissioners, the club went on record favoring construction of about 20 miles of proposed state highway out of Ellendale and Oakes and favored a $25,000 road levy.

The club also favored retaining the county agent and boys' club leader.

DICKINSON BOY, AGED 8, DIES

Dickinson, N. D., April 10.—While playing with several companions in South Dickinson about 8 o'clock, Henry Dolechek of Snow, a student at the Dickinson Normal school, ran into the splintered end of a broken wagon wheel in the yard of Adam Millius with such force that a large vein was completely severed in the left groin. The hemorrhage that followed, together with the shock, left physicians powerless in their efforts to help him and death came at six o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's hospital, where he had been taken immediately after the tragic accident.

INCOME TAX REPORTS SHOW MANY LOSSES

Fifty Per Cent of Corporations Filing Returns Show "No Profits" For 1921

LOOKS WORSE THAN IT IS

Fifty per cent of the corporations which have made income tax reports to the State tax commissioner have shown a loss on their business for the past year according to C. C. Converse, chief of the Tax Commission office. While the definite figures have not been compiled, the percentage will be above fifty percent instead of below it.

That this statement is not as bad as it appears on the face of it is also made evident by the figures of the men who have worked over the figures of the corporation tax reports for the last several years. The usual average of firms showing that they have failed to make money for any one year is forty per cent of all making reports. The year 1921, with all its troubles of deflation and with failure to move goods because of high prices was little worse than the average as far as the North Dakota corporations are concerned.

The largest losers according to reports now being tabulated in the office of the Tax Commissioner were the lumber dealers. Lack of building activity, and the fall of prices on the stocks held over from the year before hit the men in this business hard and it is found that any one of these companies show a profit it will be hailed as a remarkable achievement. The insurance companies, but apparently with less reason, are also showing a loss on their business for the year. Banks also, as a general thing show a loss on their years transactions but this condition is not as universal as in the other lines mentioned.

The wholesale groceries and creameries are the corporations showing a profit. In fact according to Lyman A. Baker, statistician in the office of the Commissioner, the firms in the state doing business on a small margin of profit and with a quick turnover, have been able to make ends meet and have a profit even in the face of the adverse conditions which have faced this state for the last fifteen months. Some amusement houses also have shown a profit, the prize exhibit in profits appearing in the report of one of the amusement companies who listed gains of 20% after all expenses were paid.

Physicians generally have made enough money that a report was necessary, according to the opinions in the commissioner's office while many attorneys are missing from the reports.

RANCHER FRIEND OF T. R. DIES

Howard Eaton, Well Known Pioneer of Slope, Succumbs

Dickinson, N. D., April 10.—Howard Eaton, well known to old timers on the Slope as one of the early pioneers and founder of the famous "Dude" ranch near Medora, now owned by William McCarty, is dead. Death came to him in a Sheridan, Wyo., hospital a few days after he had been taken there from Wolf, that state, where with his brother he has conducted another "Dude" ranch for the past several years.

Eaton, an old time hunter and cowboy, was an intimate friend of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, the acquaintance having been formed during the years when the colonel lived at or visited his Elkhorn and Chimney Butte ranches near Medora. After Roosevelt became a national figure Eaton visited him often at his home when he was president.

At one time Eaton was connected with a wild west show which traveled extensively in the east and south. Fifteen or twenty years ago with his brother he went west and settled in Wyoming, where they established another ranch after the pattern followed at Medora. He was an expert horseman. Many an old timer in Dickinson and Stark county, who knew him well, will regret to learn of his death. He was 71.

60 CARS OF HAY ARE ORDERED

Dickinson, N. D., April 10.—More than 60 cars of hay have been received in Stark county from Minnesota points for the relief of stock during the past four weeks. Of this amount 24 cars have been unloaded in Dickinson and the balance at other stations in the county. While this has been sufficient to carry the herds through until the present time, farmers declare that more will be needed to feed their horses during the planting season.

All this hay has come billed to the county in order that the farmers might be given advantage of the reduced rates made by the railroad company.

LEGION COMMANDER WILL ATTEND STATE CONVENTION AT DEVILS LAKE

HANFORD MACNIDER, NATIONAL COMMANDER AMERICAN LEGION.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 10.—Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion and wounded hero of the world war, will attend the next state convention of the veterans' organization at Devils Lake on June 20, 21 and 22. Convention headquarters today announced that Mr. MacNider had wired his acceptance and that he will be present for the opening day's session.

It will be the first time in the history of the Legion that a national commander has attended a North Dakota state convention of the ex-soldiers. Overjoyed at the prospects of entertaining the Legion's commander, convention headquarters immediately launched plans to make the affair the greatest in the history of the state. It is estimated that 500 delegates, representing the 9000 Legionnaires of the state, will be accredited to the Devils Lake affair.

Winning nine medals and eleven citations for valor on the field of battle and promoted from Second Lieutenant to Lieutenant Colonel for bravery in action, Mr. MacNider is clearly one of the outstanding figures of the day. At the age of 32, he heads the largest veterans' organization in the history of the world as well as a million dollar investment company at Mason City, Iowa, his home.

and has been handled by the bankers of the county who have advanced the purchase price to needy farmers.

In ordering the hay County Commissioner John Loh was forced to secure 60 cars and for this reason it is believed that it will be difficult to purchase any more through this source.

SPRING WHEAT GRADE MEETING PLAN ASSAILED

Minnesota Commissioner Protests Action of Secretary Wallace

St. Paul, April 10.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace has denied the request of Senator Frank Kellogg and Congressman Halvor Steenerson and Frank Clague, O. R. B. Jacobson was informed today by Congressman Clague for hearing in the twin cities or Fargo on spring wheat grades.

Mr. Jacobson asked Senator Kellogg and the Congressmen to request such a hearing. On request for revision of spring wheat grades Secretary Wallace ordered hearings in Kansas City and Chicago. Mr. Jacobson protested because these hearings were in winter wheat territory and because of this fact Minnesota grain officials have ignored Mr. Wallace's call.

Mr. Jacobson has declared a finish fight will be carried on against the grain grading laws which, he asserts, discriminate against spring wheat territory.

Frank Mithollan, a member of the North Dakota railroad commission, is conferring today with Mr. Jacobson on grading matters.

VALLEY CITY WOMAN BURNED

Valley City, N. D., April 10.—Mrs. Curren, mother of W. J. Curren, widely known contractor of Valley City, died Saturday afternoon as the result of burns sustained when a kimono she was wearing, caught fire while she was lighting a gas stove.

Details of the accident could not be obtained, as there were no eye-

Leander, Wyo., reported 8 inches of snow. The lowest temperature was reported from Leadville, Colo., where the mercury dropped to 8 above zero. Five inches of snow fell.

COURT RULES IN DEALERS' CASE

The board proceeded to canvass the vote of the regular city election, and it was found that the newly elected officers had duly qualified as provided by the statute.

Upon motion of Alderman Reif, seconded by Alderman Wernli, Emanuel Ulmer was re-elected mayor of Hazen for the ensuing year.

'AGRICULTURAL' GOVERNORS ARE FULL OF HOPE

Prosperity Is Now In Sight For Tillers of the Soil Is Opinion of All

'TURNED THE CORNER'

New York, April 11.—Conviction that the farmers of the United States have "turned the corner" and are now started on the road to normally prosperous condition was the consensus of statements by governors of leading agricultural states made public here. The assurances were given in response to an inquiry by E. A. Strout to ascertain the facts concerning the agricultural situation. They came from agricultural states representative of all sections of the country, from New England to the plains states of the Middle West and from the Great Lakes to Virginia and Mississippi. In making these reports public, Mr. Strout expressed the belief that they reflected accurately a widespread condition extending throughout the farming states from the Atlantic seaboard to the Rocky Mountains. Some of the governors not only asserted that the farming situation was improved but forecast imminent improvement in the industry generally. One of the most optimistic of the statements came from Governor Harry L. Davis, of Ohio who telegraphed: "Our Department of Agriculture has made a survey of farm conditions in Ohio. Glad to advise that agriculturally Ohio farmers are on the upgrade. Improvement in price of farm products and improved marketing conditions have given Ohio farmers renewed hope and 1922 gives every indication of being a more prosperous year than the past. "Ohio is in as sound condition as any state in the Union. We have turned the corner and are going forward agriculturally, industrially and commercially."

Extracts From Messages.

Extracts from the messages of some of the other governors follow:

Governor McCray, of Indiana: "Conditions are improved and prospects brighter in Indiana. On the whole, the outlook is good for an early return to normalcy."

Governor Sprout, of Pennsylvania: "I feel that all conditions point to better times for agriculture in Pennsylvania. There may be some delay due to disturbance incident to the threatened coal strike, etc., but I feel that much better industrial conditions are imminent and that our farmers, being so close to the markets, will benefit."

Governor Hyde, of Missouri: "The corner has definitely been turned. Missouri farmers being close to three great terminal markets, Kansas City, St. Louis and St. Joseph, have been more fortunate than farmers more remote from terminal markets."

Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia: "Agricultural conditions are recovering from deflation to some extent. Farmers are looking forward now as prices advance. "The wholesale effect of the late disastrous conditions is shown in the farmer's determination to organize and practice business principles in production and marketing. He is preparing to diversify, to grow more food and feed crops, and remove himself from the uncertainty of a one-crop dependence."

"The Virginia Department of Agriculture has had inquiries for farm land from all sections of the Union during the past two months than ever in its history."

Governor Baxter, of Maine: "I consider the agricultural situation of Maine more favorable. The inquiry for Maine farms is five times as great as one year ago. Unquestionably the business of farming will be very attractive in Maine in the next ten years."

Governor Cox, of Massachusetts and Governor Russell, of Mississippi, reported favorable conditions in those two states.

Governor McKelvie, of Nebraska, was quoted as saying: "Nebraska has turned the corner and is now well on the way back to normal and permanent prosperity. The farm value of principal agricultural products in Nebraska increased $65,357,000 between November 1, 1921, and March 1, 1922. "While the prices for farm products have increased, the prices of things for which these products must be exchanged have declined. This readjustment of exchange values is of basic importance and is perhaps the most insignificant indication of a return to normal prosperity. There is profit now in nearly all branches of farming."

TO START WORK SOON ON N. D. "AG" BUILDING

If Weather Is Favorable Ground Will Be Broken This Week, It Is Reported

Fargo, N. D., April 11.—Ground will be broken for the new $150,000 agricultural building at the North Dakota Agricultural college, this week, unless rain prevents, it was announced today by Dean E. S. Keene of the building committee. Final arrangements for the location of the new building have been completed. It is to be erected at a point about half way between the power house and Francis hall, due west of the blacksmith shop and will be about 70 feet back from the main north and south road that runs between Francis hall and the chemistry building. The northeast corner of the building will extend well out onto the little parked triangle, formed by the roads just south of Francis hall. A preliminary survey to mark out the site was begun last week, and all that remains to be done before the work of excavation for the basement is begun by Contractor Thomas Powers, is the removal of the frame tractor shed which now occupies part of the site on which the new building will be located. It is expected that the ground will be dry enough for the removal of this building within a day or two and as soon as it is out of the way, work of digging will begin. The new building will face east, and will be on a line with the front of the veterinary building. Final selection of the building site ends a problem of location that has been troubling the officials of the school for some time. It was at first determined to locate the structure where the armory is now located. Later it was decided to put it on a site now partially occupied by Francis hall. The board of administration decided that it would be too expensive to move either the armory or Francis hall, and the location, which has been described was selected.

A TALK WITH A BISMARCK MAN

J. L. Hubert, Retired Deputy Sheriff, of 122 First Street, Tells of His Experience

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Bismarck man: "I don't know of any remedy I can recommend more highly than Doan's Kidney Pills," says Mr. Hubert. "I used them about five years ago when suffering from an attack of kidney complaint. Lumbago was the worst symptom of my complaint. There were times when I had to lay off from work for several days, my back was so painful. The kidney secretions contained sediment and burned in passage. I went to Lohr's Drug Store and got three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they were not long in showing beneficial effects upon my system. The three boxes cured me. 60c. at all dealers. ## BOY 12, HOLDS UP STATE BUSINESS

A 12-year-old boy, active in the book drive being conducted for the library here, held up a meeting of the Industrial Commission when he appeared in the office of the governor last evening and announced he wanted to see Governor Nestos.

The governor's private office door opened. The boy marched in, while the Industrial Commission and two others callers waited.

"Have you got a congressional directory of the 64th Congress?" he asked.

"Well, I'll look," replied the governor. He did, but could not find it. The governor directed the boy, who was Arthur Prater, to the state library. The Industrial Commission meeting proceeded and the two callers later got an audience with the governor.

U. S. G. G. MEET IS CALLED BY U. L. BURDICK

Members and Representatives Of Four Grain Agencies In Confab Tomorrow

FARGO MEETING PLACE

Fargo, April 11.—Members and representatives of four farmers' grain sales agencies of the state are meeting here today to form, if possible, one joint marketing organization for North Dakota.

U. L. Burdick, former North Dakota director of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., who proposed the meeting, issued the following statement yesterday in which he made these points:

1. "The move is aimed at building up the national U. S. G. G." (United States Grain Growers, Inc.)
2. "There will be no difficulties on the pooling question." (This has been the largest difference between the U. S. G. G. in the past.)
3. "All parties concerned have expressed a desire to complete the joint state organization."
4. "The agencies which are meeting here: the Equity Cooperative Exchange; the National Wheat Growers; the Northwest Wheat Growers and the U. S. G. G."
5. "It is proposed to handle grain through any farmers' agencies available under the U. S. G. G. has market, including that of its own."

Mr. Burdick's statement follows: "The proposal of the state railroad commission to revive the grain inspection department which was formerly a part of that body will also be discussed. This is made necessary by the recent U. S. supreme court decision which invalidated the North Dakota grain grading act."

"The move is aimed at building up the U. S. G. G.—not at tearing it down. The growers of North Dakota will never consent to have the national body turn the sale of their grain over to commission concerns. The growers of North Dakota demand a sales agency of the growers. We don't propose to sit idly by, another year, and wait. We propose action."

"The joint state unit—if formed—will affiliate with the national U. S. G. G. as soon as that organization establishes a marketing channel and is ready to receive and pay for grain. Meanwhile the state unit will market grain through other farmers' grain marketing agencies, or one jointly established by the united organization."

"We are making no move in the organization of a state unit that is not approved by the growers. We must have authority from our membership to make the merger. So far the results coming in from a statewide referendum are practically unanimously for it."

"The U. S. G. G. membership will go into the meeting with an earnest desire to affiliate with the other three organizations. Leaders of these have also expressed a desire to form a joint state body."

"The U. S. G. G. will be represented by both state leaders and by state membership, while the other organizations will be represented by leaders rather than members."

"It is hoped that the conference will result in united action among all farmers marketing grain in North Dakota."

A Thought For Today

I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you the expected end.—Jeremiah 29:11.

A political victory, a rise in rents, the recovery of your sick, or the return of your absent friend, or some other favorable event, raises your spirit. Do not believe it. Nothing can bring you peace but yourself. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Learn a Word Every Day

Today's word is EXEGESIS.
It's pronounced—ek-se-jee-sis, with accent on the third syllable.

It means—an explanation, an exposition, an analysis, especially a critical examination of a section from the Bible.

It comes, from—Greek "exegesis," to explain.

Companion word—exegetical.

It's used like this—"Most clergy."

GOVT EMPLOYEES CANNOT STRIKE IN GERMANY

Berlin, April 11.—The right to strike is denied employees of the government in an order issued by the German Minister of Transportation, who characterized the recent strike of engineers on the government railways as a "revolt of officials." A majority of high government officials and members of the Reichstag support this position.

Labor quarters and particularly Communist circles take issue with the government, admitting that officials are bound "to obedience" to the state, but on the other hand are working men and women who must combat unfavorable wage and living conditions with weapons available. The strike is the only effective weapon within reach, they hold.

Use of emergency workers, like the Technische Nothilfe, to keep essential public utilities operating during strikes, heretofore had been tacitly recognized by labor which furnished members to the association, now is generally condemned by more radical labor and receives slight praise from conservative labor elements.

The Technische Nothilfe was an important factor in breaking the strike of the railroaders. It is argued, and therefore has shown itself not a good servant of the public but an enemy of organized labor.

BECK SHOOTING IN PICTURES

LIEUT. COL. P. W. BECK AND EPISODES THAT LED TO HIS SHOOTING, AS POLICE DESCRIBE THEM.

By NEA Service.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 11.—A mysterious tragedy in one of Oklahoma City's most fashionable mansions in which—

Lieutenant Colonel Paul Ward Beck, handsome, dashing aviator, war hero

and commander of Post flying field at Ft. Sill, was killed, it is charged, by Judge Jean P. Day, leading Democratic politician, former state supreme court justice, prominent attorney and wealthy oil operator, in the presence of—

Mrs. Day, Oklahoma society leader—Has aroused the whole state more than any sensation since the killing of Jake Hamon, Republican political leader, at Ardmore last year.

Beck was killed after a party at the Day home in Beck's honor.

Judge Day told police, they say, that after the party he left with his car to take some of the guests to their homes, leaving Beck with Mrs. Day. When he returned he found Mrs. Day fighting against Beck's advances, he says, struggling in the living room. He went to his room and got his revolver.

He ordered Beck from the house. When Beck raised his arms as if to strike, he says, Day brought the butt of his revolver down in a blow.

The weapon exploded and Beck died, Day informed the police.

Mrs. Day substantiated her husband's statements.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The last of the Seven Mountains was the Mountain-That-Was-Not-There.

When Nancy and Nick stepped off the Five-and-Ten-Cent-Store Mountain, still holding tight to the record, it was with great joy that they saw this other mountain before them in the distance.

"It's not a very high one," said Nick, "and we ought to be over it in a little while. Just beyond is the Kingdom of the Diddyevers."

Off they started as fast as their little legs could carry them to make up for the time they had lost. But although they walked and walked until they were nearly ready to drop the mountain appeared no nearer.

"There must be something the matter!" said Nancy. "I'm so tired I don't think I can go another step."

"I don't understand it," puzzled Nick. "I thought there might be some trick about it because its name is so funny or something like that. I thought maybe there was no mountain. But there is because we can see it. Oh, come on, well have to get there sometime." And he gave Nancy's arm a pull.

So poor, tired Nancy trudged on again.

Suddenly the mountain was as near to them as the house next door is to yours. It was hard to say how it happened, but it wasn't more than 10 steps away.

"Oh!" cried the Twins, stopping suddenly. Then they laughed merrily. "Way, we were getting nearer all the time," said Nancy, "and we didn't know it."

"Well, now that it's here, we'd better climb it," said Nancy wisely.

They were about to take a step up its steep side when, without any warning, the mountain did a most outrageous thing. It swung slowly over and balanced itself quite nicely on its top.

"Oh, now I know!" said discouraged Nick. "When anything's crazy they say it isn't there. That must be how the mountain gets its name."

TIMELY BEAUTY HINTS

Society women wash their own hair, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a cheap lather, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can use this as a cost of about 2 cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also be light you.

WHAT MAKES A LEADER

The population of Windsor, N. H., is reduced to 15, but it still has a complete town government with seven officials jobs.

A community after a politician's own heart! A ward-heeler would describe it as "the right proportion."

Windsor was founded in 1798 in the heart of the New England deer country. Ten years ago it had 65 registered male voters.

Observe that, with population shrunken to only 15, Windsor still finds it necessary to maintain governmental machinery—town clerk, treasurer, selectmen (councilmen), school board and board of health.

The philosophical anarchist, follower of Josiah Warren, with a beautiful system for imaginary Utopia, should be interested in what Windsor has recognized as necessity.

Shipwreck two men on a desert island and a government would be set up within 24 hours. The man with the largest club and the strongest arm would elect himself ruler.

He would start out by announcing, with emphasis, "the best thing to do." If his companion manifested a stubborn will, force would be applied to compel submission. That is the germ of legislative and police powers.

From books like Jack London's "Call of the Wild" you know that every community of beasts, such as wolves, has for its ruler the one that can whip any comer.

The animal ruler is deposed when he runs up against a fellow beast that can conquer him.

So it was in the early days of civilization. Then, with the dawn of intelligence, force had to share its throne with brains, personified in the medicine man of the tribe. Church clashed with state. Government by appeal to the emotions began.

We still have politicians swept into office by their shrewd knowledge of psychology—play on national emotions.

Gradually, with our flexible system of democracy, we are working toward government by intelligence—horse sense.

Visionaries who would do away with leadership are up against a peculiar natural law.

You see this law work in the Far North when 3000 fish eggs hatch into as many baby salmon trout. As soon as they start swimming one instinctively steps out as leader, others follow as a natural course.

Takes a locomotive to move a freight train.

U. S. INDUSTRY

Aliens who violate the prohibition law would be deported, under a bill passed by the lower house of Congress.

Bootlegging, one of the nation's basic industries, thus would be handed over to the Simon-pure 100 per cent Americans.

It opens the way to a ludicrous monopoly; one that might be a stimulant to the Americanization movement.

Picture the army of bootleggers flocking to naturalization night schools, seriously learning to answer questions about the Constitution while mixing wood alcohol and prune juice under their desks.

Naturalization papers might have to be shown as membership cards in the Bootleggers' Union.

LEARN HONESTY FROM CHINESE

The pretty young white wife of a Chinese restaurant keeper was arrested in an opium raid in New York.

She lives uptown with her daughter, among the whites. Her husband, bored by curious Caucasians "staring at him every time he went out of the house," moved to an apartment in Chinatown.

When the white wife visits her yellow husband, she takes all her furs with her because "no Chinese would steal." She is not as sure of the white men in her own district.

In the matter of honesty, the Chinese are the greatest people in the world. And they are honest, not from a moral standpoint, but because they have learned through thousands of years that honesty pays—in prosperity as well as happiness.

That is something the white man's civilization should learn from the ancient East.

Confucius, philosopher of "action and reaction," made the Chinese honest by his advice, "do not do unto others that which you would not have them do unto you."

The white man, in his transactions, is constantly looking for dishonesty, to punish it. The Chinese constantly watch for honesty, to reward it.

One reason we have so much trickery and thieving in white civilization is that we do not reward honesty with the same enthusiasm we inflict punishment for stealing. The white race will grow wiser as it matures mentally.

In China, heirs inherit a dead man's debts as well as his property. If a man steals or defaults payment, his nearest relatives, in order, have to make good.

With a system like that, Chinese papas and mammas are decidedly careful to raise their children in the paths of righteousness. It is not a bad system, for it makes Chinese social and economic life revolve around the home. The code is, honor father and respect obligations.

WAITING

Europe is a year behind us in readjusting its business to normal. This is the observation by Louis K. Liggett, after a trip abroad.

"England," he says, "will be in the same condition of readjustment in 1923 as we are this year."

This is a nut that cannot be cracked by people who believe there's no hope for America until Europe gets back on its feet again. We are leading the world in recovery, and our recovery is taking place internally, by deflation at home.

What happens right here in America is of first importance. Outside influences also are important, but secondary. A home order is twice as important as a foreign order.

SUN'S RAYS

While we struggle along the best we can with the industrial equipment we have, nature occasionally gives us a glimpse of better things stored in the future.

In the Lydia Weinig store, New York, sun's rays shine through cold air, are reflected by a hand mirror displayed in the window, focus through a magnifying glass suspended by a string, and set silk umbrellas afire.

This accident reveals the power of the sun's rays, which some day will be imprisoned by man to generate labor-saving power.

COMING

It will be a changed and entrancing world for the generation that springs up to take our place when we are old and worn out. Now and then we get a clairvoyant glimpse into the future. For instance:

Juan J. Tomadelli, Buenos Aires engineer, and a group of New York business men announce they are on the verge of discovering a light bulb which, once charged with electricity, will remain lighted for years.

They call it "bottled sunlight." Nature would yawn and point to the fire-fly.

RUSSIAN ORDERS

Even Russia seems to share the general belief that things are getting better.

The soviet railroad commission orders the equivalent of more than $100,000,000 worth of locomotives, rails and other railroad equipment.

Germany got nearly half of the business. For one thing, she will furnish 700 locomotives.

One sale breeds another, starts a chain of buying. Our country, in the long run, will benefit by Russia's orders placed in Germany and Sweden, which in turn will pass the money along.

PROMOTERS

Gradually the country comes out of the cyclone cellar. Promoters, undismayed by the epidemic of commercial failures, in March authorized the issuance of $652,759,000 in new securities, compared with only $252,676,900 in March, 1921.

This is so much new blood for business.

The big fellows are expecting industrial activity and getting ready for it. Courage is increasing in the private offices, and it will be infectious.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Higher education received a distinct setback when President Hibben began to question whether or not the use of automobiles by undergraduates in going from class to class would be tolerated by Princeton. Take the automobile, the ciraquettes, the tuxedo suits and the overstuffed haircut out of college life, and nothing but books remain. And what good are books? Still, thirty-one thousand students in one institution (Columbia university) give the world some idea of the tremendous mass production in brains, or bevo brains, which America is financing.—William Allen White in Judge.

A HYPHENATE BLOC

A hyphenate bloc, now seemingly in process of secret organization by alien-minded groups in this country, would be a good thing in Washington. It would show a good many congressmen who have turned to serve classes rather than the country where they are drifting.

They are drifting toward government by farmer-Americans and labor-Americans, capitalist-Americans and manufacturer-Americans. If we ourselves lose respect for the essential principle of our government why should we expect aliens to be more sensitive or more patriotic?—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

BEGIN HERE TODAY

After eight years of married life, MARK SABRE realizes that he is neither understood by his prosaic and snobbish wife.

MAEEL, nor by his colleagues in the firm of Fortune, East and Sabre. A promised partnership in the business has been denied him and promised to TYNNING, a jealous associate. Suddenly an old sweetheart, NONA, now the wife of the dashing LORD TYBAR, returns after two years of travel. Mabel becomes jealous of Nona who visits Sabre at his office. Sabre suspects that Nona is not happy with Tybar. In the conversation in the office, Sabre realizes that Nona can give him the sympathy and understanding that he craves.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Clearly, as it were yesterday, he remembered the day she had declared to him her choice. In the Cathedral cloisters. Walking together. And suddenly, in the midst of indifferent things, she told him, "I say, Marko, I'm going to marry Lord Tybar."

And his reply the model of indifference. "Are you, Nona?" He came upon the picture of himself alone with Nona—alone with her watching, her beautiful face—and saying to her, "Look here, there were three things you said, three expressions you used. Explain them Nona. Explain 'There!' with your glove off. Explain 'Flotsam.' Explain 'Well, I had to come.' Explain that Nona—for God's sake."

CHAPTER V

But it was October before he asked her to explain them. The Tybars, as he learnt when he next met her, a week after her visit to the office, were only at Northrepps for a breathing space after their foreign tour. Through the summer they were going the usual social round, ending in Scotland. Back in October for the shooting, and wintering there through the hunting season.

There, was the occasion of a little dinner party at Northrepps to which he had come with Mabel; Major Hopscotch Millet and one or two others were among the guests.

Nona came with them to the door on their departure. Sabre was as down the steps. "Well, I shant see you again till October," she said. "No, till October." He had no more than touched her hand and turned away.

She was close behind him. He heard her give the tiniest little catch at her breath. She said, "Shall I write to you, Marko?"

He turned towards her. She was smiling as though it was a chaffing remark she had made. Her shield!

And he answered her from behind his own shield, "Oh, well, I'm bad at letters, you know."

But their eyes met with no shields before them; and she was wounded for he just caught her voice as he went down the steps. "Oh, Marko, do write to me!"

He got into the cab Major Millet had taken the seat next Mabel. As the horse turned, Mabel inquired, "What was Lady Tybar talking to you about all that time?"

He said, "Oh, just saying goodbye." But he was thinking, "That's a fourth question: Why did you say, 'Oh, Marko, do write to me?' Or was that the answer to the other questions, although I never asked them?"

CHAPTER VI

A draper occupied the premises opposite Fortune, East and Sabre's. On one October afternoon, just before five o'clock, Sabre saw Nona alight from her car and go into the draper's. He put on his hat and coat and descended into the street. As he crossed the road she came out.

"Hullo, Marko!"

"What about having some tea some-

She said, "Yes."

He hardly could hear the word. He had asked her. She was as tall as he. Not least of the contributions to her beauty in his eyes was the line in grace of her stature. But her face was averted; and he wanted to see her face. "Stand a minute and look at me, Nona." He caught her arm. "I want to see your face."

She turned towards him and raised her eyes to his eyes. "Oh, what is it you want to say, Marko?"

The words that which glowed upon her lower lids; and about her mouth were trembling movements; and in her throat a pulse beating.

He said, "It's you I want to say something. I want you to explain some things. Some things you said. Nona, when you came into my room that day and shook hands you said 'There!' when you gave me your hand. You took off your glove and said 'There!' I want to know why."

Sabre said, "What did he say?" In all she had told him there was something omitted. He knew that his question approached the missing quantity. But she did not answer it.

He had desired her to look at him, but it was he who had turned away. He sat with his head between his hands, his elbows on his knees.

She repeated, with rather a plaintive note, as though in his pose she saw some pain she had caused him, "You see, I had known you all my life, Marko."

He said still looking upon the ground between his feet, "But you haven't explained anything. You've only told me. You haven't explained why."

She said with astounding simplicity, "Well, you see, a Marko, I made a mistake. I made a most frightful mistake. I chose. I chose wrong. I ought to have married you Marko."

And his words were a groan. "Nona—Nona—"

EVERETT TRUE

BY CONDO

I SEE YOU HAVE TODAY'S 'PAPER RIGHT THERE AT YOUR ELBOW, EVERETT. LET ME LOOK AT IT.

WILL YOU?

I WOULD BE DELIGHTED — I DON'T THINK!! WHENEVER I LET YOU LOOK AT IT, YOU LET ME LOOK FOR IT!!!

He answered "Because I remember, you must explain."

"Please let me sit down, Marko."

She faltered a little laugh. "I can explain better sitting down."

A felled trunk had been placed against the trees facing towards the parkland. They went to it and he sat beside her. She sat upright but bending forward a little over her crossed knees, her hands clasped on them, looking before her across the park.

"No, you must look at me," he said. She very slowly turned her body towards him. He thought her most beautiful and the expression of her beautiful face was most terrible to him in all his emotions.

III

She spoke very slowly; almost with a perceptible pause between each word. She said "Well, I'll tell you. I said 'Flotsam,' didn't I? If I explain that—you know what flotsam is, Marko. Have you ever looked it up in the dictionary. The dictionary says it terribly. 'Goods shipwrecked and found floating on the sea.' I'm twenty-eight, Marko. I suppose that's not really very old. It seems a terrible age to me. You see, you judge age by what you are in contrast with what you were. If you're very happy I think it can't matter how old you are. If you look back to when you were happy and then come to now when you're not, it seems a most terrible and tremendous gulf—and you see yourself just floating—drifting farther and farther away from the happy years and just being taken along, taken along, to God, knows where, God knows to what."

She put out the palms of her hands towards where misty evening barked somberly across the park. "That's very frightening, Marko."

"Well, all the time there was you Marko. In those two years when we were away it got awful. In those two years I knew I was flotsam. One day—in India—I went and looked at it in the little dictionary in my writing case, and I knew I was. Do you know what I did. I crossed out flotsam in the dictionary and wrote Nona. There it was, and it was the most exact thing—Nona: goods shipwrecked and found floating in the sea. I meant to have torn out the page. I forgot. I left it there and Tony saw it."

Sabre said, "What did he say?" In all she had told him there was something omitted. He knew that his question approached the missing quantity. But she did not answer it.

He had desired her to look at him, but it was he who had turned away. He sat with his head between his hands, his elbows on his knees.

RADIOPHONE LECTURE HEARD 100 MILES AWAY

Chicago, Ill., April 11.—Possibilities for the use of the radiophone in education were indicated when students of physics at the Nebraska State Normal school at Wayne, Neb., heard a lecture delivered by Prof. J. C. Johnson of Nebraska Wesleyan from his laboratory 100 miles away. Each word was distinctly audible. A survey of a score of colleges and universities shows that radio outfits form part of the equipment of many such institutions, with college students in the vanguard of radio enthusiasts.

At Northwestern University, a new radio communication was made recently when a shooting match was held between the co-ed rifle teams of Northwestern University and the University of Michigan. The match took place at the respective schools simultaneously, the scores being transmitted at the end of each "shoot."

At Wesleyan University, a Radio Club has been formed by local enthusiasts to keep in touch with latest developments. Students at Lawrence, College, Appleton, Wis., have heard musical concerts broadcast from all parts of the Middle West and as far East as New York city.

One of the most enterprising radio amateurs is to be found at Evansville College, Evansville, Ind. He is Uriah Morris, a freshman who during the many years he has been "listening in" has picked up many interesting bits of information some time before they were published in the newspapers.

Blame Germany For Unemployment In Sweden

Stockholm, April 11.—Severe German competition is causing a continued increase in the number of unemployed in Sweden. More than half the 25,000 workers ordinarily employed in the saw mills were out of work on February 1 and so were 55 per cent of those usually employed in the iron and steel industry.

Of the 60,000 registered in the different engineering trades, 45 per cent were unemployed.

German manufacturers are able to undercut Swedish prices by 30 to 50 per cent owing to the decline in the value of the mark.

Seventy per cent of the miners in coal exporting districts are at work but in other sections of the coal regions only 34 per cent are employed.

Among fortunate industries are the paper manufacturers, who employ 65 per cent of their staffs and the textile trades, with 89 per cent.

60 MEN WORK ON STATE MILL

Grand Forks, N. D., April 11.—About 60 men were at work this morning on the state mill and elevator here and pouring of concrete on the power plant was proceeding briskly, while tops of unfinished main buildings were being cleared for further work. Forms for concrete on the two main buildings will be erected this week according to L. P. McCormack, business manager of the Fegles Construction company, contractors, and pouring on these structures should commence next Monday.

The number of men will be steadily increased from now on, said Mr. McCormack and the elevator should be ready to receive grain by the coming fall.

The Aftermath of Influenza

This is No. 1 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued C.D.—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Your doctor will impress upon you that following recovery from the active stage of influenza, the chest often remains an inflamed, congested condition of the air passages—throat, larynx, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Frequently the cough hangs on—soreness of the chest persists—you take cold easily and there may be obstinate catarrh. This condition is slow to clear up and if neglected may favor the development of pneumonia, or later on, serious disease of the lungs.

Such cases should continue under the care of their physician—should exercise moderately in the open air—eat plenty of wholesome food—avoid overwork and sudden chills.

Nightly applications of Vicks Vapo-Rub help nature to complete the process of repair. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and cover with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a tunnel so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples will be sent free to new users on request to the Vicks Chemical Company, Greensboro, N. C.

CLEAN-UP WEEK DESIGNATED BY MAYOR LENHART

Week of May 1 To Be Time For General House-cleaning In The City.

The week of May 1 was designated as "Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week" by Mayor A. P. Lenhart at the city commission meeting last night, with approval of the commission, and Commissioner Hensler was designated Sanitary Officer for the week. Members of the commission expressed belief that the city needs a good cleaning-up and that many organizations should join in an effort to make the week a success.

The commission received bids for street sprinkling, garbage hauling, and laying of concrete sidewalks. The Wachter Transfer Company was awarded the contract for garbage hauling, at $165.00 per month for one or more teams with wagon, or $6.50 per day for each man and team. There were two bids for street sprinkling. Joe Katz bid $110 per month, or $5 per day for one man and team. The Wachter Transfer Co. bid $115 per month or $7 per day for one man and team. The Noggle Concrete and Tile Company and W. M. Griffiths submitted bids for constructing cement sidewalks. The contract was awarded to W. M. Griffiths.

The commission allowed a bill of $350 to S. J. Hunt, employed in the water company investigation. The new traffic ordinance will be up for discussion next Monday. Commissioner Hensler regards the most important feature of the ordinance a provision that the driver on the right shall have the right-of-way at all intersections. This system, which disregards the old system of giving drivers on north and south or east and west streets the right-of-way is said to have been successful in large cities.

Bills were allowed as follows:

PIONEER N. P. ENGINEER DIES

George McClain was Oldest N. P. Engineer on Dakota Division

Jamestown, N. D., April 11.—A telegram was received in the city announcing the death of George McClain, one of the best known railroad men on the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific railway. The telegram came from C. D. Porter, who had stopped at Portland enroute from California to Jamestown, and was received by Mrs. Lynn Challoner, niece of the deceased.

Mr. McClain died at 8:15 yesterday morning at his home in Portland, where he had been since last fall. He had been ailing all winter, and was very poorly the last few weeks. It is probable that funeral services and burial will be held at Portland where the family have made their home for 12 years, following their removal from Jamestown. Mr. McClain for several years has spent the winter months in Portland returning in the spring to his run as engineer on the Turtle Lake branch of the N. P. He was the oldest engineer on the N. P. from Fargo to Mandan and for many years was engineer on the Valley line to Oakes, along which route he was known by almost every man, woman and child.

Mr. McClain is survived by his wife and one son, Ed, of Portland. The family resided in Jamestown many years. Mr. McClain selling the old home on 8th avenue south a short time ago to George Newberry. The McClains also resided at Fargo for a number of years before coming to Jamestown. Mr. McClain was about 75 years of age.

AT THE THEATERS

EARLE WILLIAMS' PICTURE MADE IN KERN RIVER SECTION.
A fence made of timber sixty feet long and three feet through at the base is shown in the Earle Williams production, "Living Him In," which will be the attraction at the Capitol theater tomorrow and Thursday. The action was made for the most part in the Kern river section of California around one of the most picturesque locales of the west. Log cabins, long shots showing snow covered mountains in the distance, groves of beautiful white birches and landscapes that would be a credit to any artist make the production a veritable travelogue.

The story itself is filled with action, showing the activities of the Canadian northwest mounted police and British Columbia. The star has the role of the hunted man and rises to great heights in emotional and dramatic action. He is forced to fight his way, however, in much of the film and carries away added laurels with the production. This is the first picture which Mr. Williams has directed himself in association with Bert Branning, and the star proves himself a very capable director.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I want to make this public expression of what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me. Some years ago I was in a weak, run-down condition with neither strength nor ambition. A neighbor suggested that I take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I secured a bottle from the drug store and this was so helpful that I had no need of a second bottle. To those whose condition needs building up I can and do recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

SYRUP PEPSIN IN OLD AGE

Much used by elderly people for constipation, biliousness, headache, etc.

MANY men and women, as they grow older, suffer constantly from little ills. Increased doses are not necessary. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The cost is only about a cent a dose.

and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, the formula has never been improved upon. It is safer and better for you than salts, minerals, calomel, coal tar and such drastic purgatives.

Moments Which Count

When you are conscious of the scrutiny of interested eyes which appraise every detail of your appearance, can you sit serene, secure in the consciousness that there is nothing to criticize but everything to admire?

Happy is the girl who can answer "yes" in these all important moments. She is the girl who knows that her fresh, clear skin and smooth, white neck and arms are sure to command admiration.

The girl who is not so sure of her personal attractiveness, who is conscious that complexion defects may affect her popularity, should waste no time remedying these conditions. The secret is cosmetic cleanliness, which keeps the skin free from clogging accumulations.

Once a day, do this

Once a day, preferably at bedtime, give your face a thorough cleansing. This doesn't mean a harsh, irritating scrub but a cosmetic cleansing accomplished by the gentlest possible means.

Soap is necessary, but only the mildest soap should be used. This is Palmolive, blended from palm and olive oils.

Once you experience the mild, soothing effect of its smooth, creamy lather you will recognize daily cleansing as the surest complexion beautifier.

Removal, once a day, of the accumulations of dirt, oil, perspiration and the remaining traces of cold cream and powder is absolutely essential to a clear, fresh skin.

Neglect results in clogged pores, coarse texture and blackheads. When the accumulated soil carries infection, pimples are the result.

An ancient secret

The value of beautifying cleansing was discovered long ago, in the days of ancient Egypt. It was Cleopatra's secret—whatever the embellishments she employed, they were applied after the daily bath with palm and olive oils as cleansers.

The great queen was famous for her beauty long after early youth was passed. She kept her looks with the aid of the same gentle, stimulating cleansing which we recommend today.

Blended from the same oils

Palmolive is blended from the same costly oriental oils which served Cleopatra as cleanser and beautifier. We import them from overseas in vast quantity to keep the Palmolive factories at work day and night. This is necessary to supply the world-wide demand.

This popularity has reduced price, as manufacturing volume permits economies which lower production costs. Thus we are able to supply Palmolive for only 10 cents a cake.

So while Palmolive ranks first as finest facial soap, you can afford to follow Cleopatra's example and use it for bathing.

Remember that complexion beauty does not end with the face, and beautify your body with Palmolive.
